

Shelby Hegemann, Tyler Polacek and Justin Evert, who wrote a commercial.

Students write commercial

Shelby Hegemann, Tyler Polacek and Justin Evert, Howells Community Catholic School students, wrote a commercial as a language arts assignment after learning about the dangers of secondhand smoke during their sixth grade science class.

The contest was put on by the Tobacco Free Colfax County Coalition and the East Central District Health Department.

There were four winning commercials. The students recorded the commercial at Three Eagles Communications on March 9. All four winning commercials will air during the week of "Kick Butts Day," Monday, March 22 - Sunday, March 28, on KLIR FM 101.1 and The Hawk 93.5 at 7-8 a.m., 3:30-4:30 p.m. and 7-8 p.m. each day.

The commercial is played and then ends with "Presented to you by Howells Community Catholic School and the Tobacco Free Colfax County Coalition in honor of Kick Butt Day."

Their teacher, Carrie Gall said, "The kids had so much fun recording the commercial. What a great experience!"

Andy Dominguez - (white). vak gave the report of funds.

President Baumert made the following announcements: The alumni banquet will be held Saturday, June 5, at the Howells Ballroom and the Community Club Banquet will be held at the Howells Legion Club with both banquets served by the GFWC Howells Woman's Club.

In place of the Opportunity Package a donation was made to the Howells Pool Fund.

The next GFWC Howells Woman's Club meeting is April 5 at 7:30 p.m. at the Howells Community Center. The program is "Domestic Violence" by Tammy Burden. Hostesses are Donna Molacek, Deb Motes and Leah Polacek.

A dessert lunch was served by hostess Becky Lerch.

Foster has surgery

Jennifer Foster, eight-year-old daughter of Brad and Michelle Foster of Grand Island, and granddaughter of Gene and Judy Wolff of Howells, had a second back surgery on Feb. 23.

Grandmother Wolff, who had been babysitting with her, said her granddaughter is home and recovering nicely.

CEWC Craft important forms.

As I write this, I am aware of many of the changes that have taken place in the community since May 2001 when I began serving the community. A new school and utilities building have been built. Businesses have come and gone. Others have changed hands, upgraded their appearance, changed location, and always tried to be an asset to the community. Street improvements have been made, the hospital expanded, and the theater has been renovated and is in operation again. One of the big things that happened, that is not visible to people, is that the city became a city of 1st class.

That happened because the 2000 census showed that the city had 5,371 residents, putting it over the 5,000 minimum needed for class one status. This classification affects city funding and endeavors that would not be available without that classification.

That is one reason why it is so important for everyone in the community to accurately fill out and return their census questionnaire. The 2010 Census is important to our community's future. The data gathered will determine funding for vital local services as well as through April in areas. One of the census forms in sus history, the sus form asks 10 and takes about to complete.

Every person's residence, both and nonrelatives included on the ple should be co residence wher and sleep most d

"The 2010 Ce historical even help shape the fu country," said Dr Groves, director sus Bureau. "It everyone is co and only once right place."

Census form safe and confi law, the Cens cannot share re answers with a cluding other fe cies and law en entities.

Questionnaire tance Centers ( available to assi able to read or the census form Assistance Gu available. Schu Library will be for a QAC. Do Send in your fo courage your neighbors to do

WE MAKE

he starts the plants and his own greenhouse where Park, and City Hall. He has and Karen Pickmike of Lincoln and Dan Butler, Jeff and Jo Swanson of Bassett.

Wolfe presented a craft "Show and Tell"

Leimser, and Natasha Bellowood, went

Shelby Hegemann, Tyler Polacek and Justin Evert, who wrote a commercial.

Students write commercial

Shelby Hegemann, Tyler Polacek and Justin Evert, Howells Community Catholic School students, wrote a commercial as a language arts assignment after learning about the dangers of secondhand smoke during their sixth grade science class.

The contest was put on by the Tobacco Free Colfax County Coalition and the East Central District Health Department.

There were four winning commercials. The students recorded the commercial at Three Eagles Communications on March 9. All four winning commercials will air during the week of "Kick Butts Day," Monday, March 22 - Sunday, March 28, on KLIR FM 101.1 and The Hawk 93.5 at 7-8 a.m., 3:30-4:30 p.m. and 7-8 p.m. each day.

The commercial is played and then ends with "Presented to you by Howells Community Catholic School and the Tobacco Free Colfax County Coalition in honor of Kick Butt Day."

Their teacher, Carrie Gall said, "The kids had so much fun recording the commercial. What a great experience!"

Andy Dominguez - (white). vak gave the report of funds.

President Baumert made the following announcements: The alumni banquet will be held Saturday, June 5, at the Howells Ballroom and the Community Club Banquet will be held at the Howells Legion Club with both banquets served by the GFWC Howells Woman's Club.

In place of the Opportunity Package a donation was made to the Howells Pool Fund.

The next GFWC Howells Woman's Club meeting is April 5 at 7:30 p.m. at the Howells Community Center. The program is "Domestic Violence" by Tammy Burden. Hostesses are Donna Molacek, Deb Motes and Leah Polacek.

A dessert lunch was served by hostess Becky Lerch.

Foster has surgery

Jennifer Foster, eight-year-old daughter of Brad and Michelle Foster of Grand Island, and granddaughter of Gene and Judy Wolff of Howells, had a second back surgery on Feb. 23.

Grandmother Wolff, who had been babysitting with her, said her granddaughter is home and recovering nicely.

CEWC Craft
important forms.

As I write this, I am aware of many of the changes that have taken place in the community since May 2001 when I began serving the community. A new school and utilities building have been built. Businesses have come and gone. Others have changed hands, upgraded their appearance, changed location, and always tried to be an asset to the community. Street improvements have been made, the hospital expanded, and the theater has been renovated and is in operation again. One of the big things that happened, that is not visible to people, is that the city became a city of 1st class.

That happened because the 2000 census showed that the city had 5,371 residents, putting it over the 5,000 minimum needed for class one status. This classification affects city funding and endeavors that would not be available without that classification.

That is one reason why it is so important for everyone in the community to accurately fill out and return their census questionnaire. The 2010 Census is important to our community's future. The data gathered will determine funding for vital local services as well as through April in areas. One of the census forms in the census history, the census form asks 10 and takes about 1 to complete.

Every person's residence, both and nonrelatives included on the census should be correct residence where and sleep most of "The 2010 Census historical event will help shape the future of the country," said Dr. Groves, director of the Census Bureau. "It is everyone's job to make sure everyone is counted and only once in the right place."

Census forms are safe and confidential. The Census cannot share responses with anyone, including other federal agencies and law enforcement entities.

Questionnaire Assistance Centers (QACs) are available to assist anyone who is unable to read or write the census form. QACs are available at the Schuyler Public Library will be for a QAC. Do Send in your form with courage your neighbors to do

WE MAKE

he starts the plants and his own greenhouse where Park, and City Hall. He has

Lincoln and Dan Butler, Jeff and Jo Swanson of Bassett, Great-grandchildren and Wolfe presented a craft "Show and Tell" should bring something for and Natasha Bellwood, went Leimser,